

NEW JERSEY FIRE ALARM.

Steel Rims of Old Locomotive Wheels Put to Good Use.

Most of the towns in New Jersey, even including so large a place as Long Branch, have steel wheel fire alarms, which arouse communities around them in a very wide radius. The wheels are merely the steel rims of big locomotive drive wheels. They are given to all towns desiring them by the Central railway of New Jersey from its disabled rolling stock. Sometimes the alarm is mounted in a wooden tower frame, and again is hung from the arm of a stout post. A big hammer hangs on a post, and any one discovering a fire clangs the alarm and calls citizens to action. The above photograph was made from one of the most gracefully mounted fire alarms in the State at Avon, the rival of Pleasure Bay, on Shark river, where ocean beach summer resorters drive for steamed clams and cooked crabs, taken from the salt water while you wait, observing the whole process from dining room verandas overlooking the water.

PAYS 42-YEAR DEBT.

Soldier Finds Widow of Man Who Lent Him $15.

Mrs. E. R. Bootey of Jamestown, N. Y., was at home the other day when a stranger came to the door and asked her name.

Finding she was Mrs. Bootey, he said he was lying in a southern hospital forty-two years ago, and wanted to get home, but had no money. A companion gave him $15, with which he made the journey. His companion was E. R. Bootey, a lad from Chautauqua county, and he never saw him again.

Mr. Bootey has been dead several years, and the stranger paid to his widow the $15, adding another $10 for interest.

Mrs. Bootey had never heard her husband speak of the incident, but accepted the payment and thanked the man who was willing to pay a claim that every one else had forgotten after forty-two years.—New York Herald.

Fifty Goats' Fatal Spree.

Fifty drunken goats caused a great deal of excitement in Old Forge. Some men dumped a quantity of fermented wheat in a vacant lot near where a number of goats were pasturing.

The odor arrested the attention of the goats as being very tempting. They swarmed down the mountain and had a glorious time eating the wheat. The effect on the "butters" proved fatal, as they had eaten so much that they were poisoned. The residents feel the loss severely, as they derived their milk supply from the goats.—Montrose (Pa.) Independent.

Curious Fish.

The oldest inhabitants of the New York aquarium are the striped bass, which have been there for ten years, having been placed in one of the floor pools before the building was opened to the public. In May, 1894, fifty-five specimens, weighing from a quarter of a pound to four pounds, were secured, thirty-seven of which have survived. Most of those that were lost died in the first year, and in the last four years not one has died.

Gentlemen:—"I can cheerfully state that Mrs. Schley has taken Peruna and I believe with good effect."

—W. S. SCHLEY.

Battle of Santiago, Where Admiral Schley Made History.

ONE of the greatest naval battles in the world was the Fight Off Santiago. Never since the dispersion of the Spanish Armada has there been a more important victory in the onward march of civilization than in the notable event of July 23, 1898, in which the great hero, Admiral Schley, took a leading part.

A GREAT NAVAL BATTLE.

It was a great naval battle. Without a moment's warning it began. Quick decision, undaunted courage, excellent discipline, resolute self-confidence—these combined in Admiral Schley to produce that dash and daring so characteristic of the American soldier.

A man must think quickly in these days. There is no time for slow action. New enterprises arise in an hour. Old ones pass away in a moment.

A multitude of great themes clamor for notice. A man must take sides for or against by intuition, rather than logical deduction.

One day this fighting admiral, Schley, happened to be in company with others who were talking on various topics of popular interest. The subject of Peruna was raised.—Its popularity as a catarrh remedy, its national importance, its extensive use.

One asked his opinion. Without a moment's hesitation, he said: "I can cheerfully say that Mrs. Schley has taken Peruna and I believe with good effect."

Like the Battle of Santiago, the thought was sprung upon him without any warning, and he disposed of it with the same vim and decision as he did with the Spanish fleet led by the ill-fated Viscaya.

His words concerning Peruna have gone out into the world to be repeated by a thousand tongues, because he has said them.

Like the news of his victory over Cervera, his words concerning Peruna will be caught up by the multitudes and passed from mouth to mouth, across oceans and continents.

ADMIRAL'S WORDS CARRY WEIGHT.

Except for an in-born manly independence, in a country of free speech, these words never would have been uttered by an officer in such a notable position as that of Admiral Schley.

Except for a world-wide notoriety and popularity, such as Peruna enjoys, no remedy could ever have received such outspoken public endorsement by such a man.
